

Bergin University of Canine Studies

Board of Trustees (in alphabetical order)

Board President/CAO

Bonnie Bergin

Ed.D., Nova Southeastern University - Education

MA, Sonoma State University - Special Education, Early Childhood Education

BA, SSU - English, Psychology, Social Science

Board Member

Gail Flatt

www.provencherandflatt.com

Before receiving her law degree in 1982, Ms. Flatt had a fourteen-year career as a teacher and probation officer. Those experiences gave her a lot of insight into human nature and what motivates people. She approaches cases by finding out what people need and then helping them develop a strategy to get it.

Her unique strengths and expertise are problem solving, being able to think outside the box, and being a passionate advocate for her clients.

Ms. Flatt frequently lectures on disability rights issues and served for twelve years on the board of directors of Community Resources for Independence, an independent living center serving Sonoma, Napa, Lake and Mendocino counties.

She is also a trained mediator; her mediation practice is limited to employment and real estate issues.

Gail has enjoyed living in Santa Rosa with her husband Ron since 1973. She is a self-proclaimed golf nut and cooking fanatic. She is addicted to sports, especially basketball

Bergin University of Canine Studies

Board of Trustees (in alphabetical order)

Board Member

No photo available

Greg Lucas

Lucas & Lucas Building Contractor

Board Secretary

No photo available

Stacy McLaughlin

Owner/Stylist Biquor & Biquor of Beverly Hills

www.biquorandbiquor.com/index.html

Stacy has been an integral part of developing Biquor & Biquor from the beginning. Stacy worked with Shawn Finch in 1985 at an upscale salon in down town Santa Rosa called Chrysalis and followed Shawn to the first location of Biquor & Biquor on 4th street. Within the first few years Stacy became the manager of the salon and in 1995 became Shawn's partner at the Montgomery Village location.

For 21 years Stacy has worked to instill the philosophy that the considerations of the customer come first and foremost. Stacy has been instrumental in creating the curriculum for Biquor & Biquor's in house and outside training programs as she strives to create an elegant atmosphere that inspires and encourages personal growth as well as team effort.

Today, she still works behind her chair seeing clients and continues to develop and enhance the daily operations of Biquor and Biquor to deliver the promise that at Biquor & Biquor you will receive exceptional work from each and every stylist.

Board Chairperson

Dave Phillips

Partner Elliott & Phillips, LLP

Masters of Business Administration-Emphasis in Taxation-Golden Gate University

Bachelors of Arts in Business-San Francisco State University

David V. Phillips is a partner in the Santa Rosa Certified Public Accounting firm of Elliott & Phillips, LLP. David began his public accounting work with a firm in San Francisco. He joined a firm in Santa Rosa in 1972 and eventually became the managing partner of that 60-person organization. His work has focused on tax planning for closely held business and their owners and the majority of his time is now spent in advising individuals in the estate and trust taxation and administration areas.

Bergin University of Canine Studies

Board of Trustees (in alphabetical order)

David has been active in the nonprofit arena both professionally and personally. He has worked with numerous Medical Societies and other professional organizations, as well as social welfare organizations.

He met Bonnie Bergin through a mutual client and has been involved with Bergin University and its predecessor organization since its inception.

David and his wife Dale have lived in Sonoma County for 40 years and currently live on their ranch East of town, where they grow wine grapes and share the property with horses, dogs and cats.

Board Treasurer

Mark Quattrocchi, AIA

Principal Quattrocchi Kwok Architects

www.qka.com

Masters of Architecture – University of California, Berkeley

Bachelors of Arts in Architecture – University of California, Berkeley

Mark Quattrocchi is principal of the Santa Rosa design firm of Quattrocchi Kwok Architects. The 50-person firm specializes in educational facilities including Universities and public schools – the firm has completed over $1 billion in educational projects. Since establishing the firm in 1986, Mark Quattrocchi has designed numerous public and private projects including the 260,000 square foot American Canyon High School.

Highly knowledgeable in client-responsive design, Mr. Quattrocchi has lectured at conferences and workshops, including the Coalition for Adequate School Housing, the California Association of Independent Schools, and a symposium on 21st century schools for the San Diego Unified School District. Mr. Quattrocchi is a guest lecturer for the Department of Architecture, University of California at Berkeley.

As a designer of sustainable schools, Mr. Quattrocchi's experience includes work as a senior research associate in the Passive Solar Group at the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, where he focused on energy conservation in institutional and commercial buildings. He published papers in the field of energy-conscious design. Mark was president of the American Institute of Architects, Redwood Empire Chapter and has volunteered on numerous community boards and committees.